

3 Wounded In War To Be Honored at Legion Dinner

Aide to Selective Service Chief to be Speaker
Will Be Held Nov. 11 in Legion Hall

Marking the end of the First World War by honoring the veterans of this second and greater war, the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, Narberth, will hold its annual dinner, November 11, at 7 o'clock in the Legion rooms.

The principal speaker will be Lt. Col. Paul H. Griffith, now stationed in Washington, D. C., where he is an aide to General Hershey, Selective Service System. Colonel Griffith was military aide to Louis Johnson who was sent by President Roosevelt to India more than a year ago. Formerly he was in charge of the Washington headquarters of the American Legion, and has served as State Commander in Pennsylvania.

Colonel Griffith is a brother of Mrs. Ralph Rankin, 309 Chestnut Ave., Narberth.

As this annual Armistice Day affair of the Legion is intended to honor the young men now in service, the Legion is asking fathers of veterans to attend, as well as any soldiers or sailors who may be home on leave at that time.

Special tribute will be paid to three Narberth boys who have seen service and are now discharged as a result of wounds. These include William Weidemann, who was with the Marines in Guadalcanal and whose home is at 519 Wynnewood Ave.; George Burgess, 220 Sabine Ave., who served with the Army in the Aleutian campaign, and Ray Maxwell, 107 Price Ave., formerly with the Navy in the South Pacific.

Dinner will be served by a caterer in the Legion rooms. R. C. Rollins, who was installed as Commander of the Post to succeed D. C. Miner at the regular meeting last Tuesday evening, will preside. Henry G. Sparks is chairman of the banquet committee.

DELEGATES REPORT TO SOROPTIMISTS

Lecture Given On Home Front Diet

The regular monthly meeting of the Main Line Soroptimist Club was held at the Haverford Court Hotel on Oct. 27.

At the business meeting, preceded by the dinner, reports were read by the delegates who attended the Annual North Atlantic Regional Conference of the American Federation of Soroptimists.

They reported that $5500 had been sent to China for the education of nurses. For every dollar the American Soroptimists have sent to China, General Chiang Kai-shek is adding to the fund, the equivalent of 50 cents in our money. Christmas gifts have also been sent to all the American nurses in foreign service.

Following the dinner a fine program was presented by the hostess committee, with Dorothy Wilson as chairman, assisted by Velma Jacques and Valler Willis.

Miss Enid Smallwood gave an illustrated lecture on "Proper Nutrition on the Home Front," and Miss Anna Townsend spoke on "The Emergency Program Now being carried on by the Main Line Branch of the American Red Cross."

Hunters Asked To Be Careful of Telephone Wires

With the opening of the small game hunting season on October 30, C. E. Stubbs, Bell Telephone Company employee, observes the occasion with the following:

Listen, ye hunters, and you shall hear
Of a thing which happens this time of year,
When men go out at the break of morn
To hunt small game in the shocks of corn.
For some strange reason we know not of,
The birds you hunt all dearly love
To fly or sit near a telephone wire,
(Or get one into your line of fire.)

Now, when that bird is on the spot,
We know you hate to miss that shot.
But, brother, please, when you see a wire,
Think it over before you fire!

One shot in a cable overhead
And a dozen telephone lines go dead—
A dozen telephone lines or more,
Carrying words to speed the war!
Calls to war plants from Washington—

Quota Set For Junior Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross will conduct its annual membership drive in the 27 schools of the Main Line Branch from November 1 to November 15. A quota of 7700 has been set. Any contributions, from one cent up, enrolls a member.

The 1942 Roll Call totaled $1442.72. Junior Red Cross finances its own projects, receiving no funds from the Senior Red Cross. Projects include contributions to the National Children's Fund administered by the Red Cross to help children in need in all parts of the world.

Student from Mexico Talks to Rotarians

Maria de Lourdes Melgar, of Mexico, a student at the Friends Central School, addressed the members of the Bala-Cynwyd Narberth Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at the Overbrook Golf Club.

Miss Melgar, who has been in the United States three months, under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee, was introduced by Dr. Barclay Jones, international service chairman.

SCOUTS RESPOND TO TEST ROUND-UP

Talks Given By Local High School Coaches

Nearly 300 Boy Scouts and Scouters, representing approximately 25 per cent of the Main Line enrollment, responded to a test mobilization call Friday night.

A series of phone calls by L. B. Curtis, district commissioner, started the round-up. Curtis telephoned to the neighborhood commissioners from Bala to Wayne, who relayed the message to scoutmasters of the various Troops.

At the Ardmore Y.M.C.A., where the Scouts were notified to assemble, Curtis and William Cies, field scout executive, waited nervously, wondering how effectively the message would get through. Within a few minutes, a few Scouts from Ardmore responded. Then they started coming in from Bryn Mawr and Wynnewood, from Rosemont and Penn Valley, and eventually from the most distant communities.

Talks were given by Bill Stimson, coach of the Haverford Township High School; Jules Provost, coach of Radnor High, and Dick Mattis, coach of Lower Merion High. Commander George Wagner spoke on his experiences in the South Pacific. William Cies, field scout executive, made brief remarks.

Plans are taking shape for the Main Line District Annual Dinner to be held November 18, at 7 p. m., at the Narberth Methodist Church. Arthur W. Binns, chairman of the Valley Forge Boy Scout Council, will be the principal speaker.

Neighborhood commissioners of the Main Line District Boy Scout organization will hold their monthly meeting November 4, at the home of L. B. Curtis, district commissioner, 26 East Athens avenue, Ardmore.

Hallowe'en Dance at T. D. Vandiver Post

The Thomas D. Vandiver Post of the American Legion will hold a Hallowe'en party this Saturday at 9 P. M. at the Legion House, Bala-Cynwyd. Prizes will be given for fancy and comic costumes.

Free Recitals at Musical Academy

Helene Diedrichs, well known Main Line pianist, will discuss and illustrate the Tobias Mathway system of keyboard technique at a free lecture-recital in the Philadelphia Musical Academy auditorium, 1617 Spruce St., on November 10, at 8:30 P. M. On November 13, at 8:15 P. M. there will be a free recital by piano pupils of Joseph Allard.

RELEASE SHELLS FOR HUNTING SEASON

Entries to Close for Largest Fish Contest

Because a number of Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club members have been caught short without ammunition for hunting this year, the club last Wednesday night voted to release 500 rounds of trap loads to members who were in need of shells. Release of shells is being carried out by George Floyd, Sr., of Narberth, chairman of the Club's trap shooting committee. The meeting was held in the American Legion Hall, Narberth.

Walter Mieson of Narberth, chairman of fresh water activities, reminded Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club members that November 30 will be the last day upon which entries may be turned in for the Club's 1943 Largest Fish Contest, as well as the 1943 Vermion Contest.

"Turn in your largest catch, no matter how small it is," he urged; "for it has been the frequent experience of past years that valuable prizes have been won in this contest by persons who turned in catches they were sure were too small to be winners."

Walter Johnston, Roxborough, chairman of the Fall drawing committee, distributed tickets at the meeting for the Club's annual donation drawing, which will take place November 17, in the American Legion Hall, Narberth. The drawing committee announced that all prizes will be War Bonds and Stamps. The winner of the first prize will receive a $550.00 War Bond; second prize, a $255.00 War Bond; third, $10.00 in War Stamps; while winners of the fourth, fifth and sixth prizes will each receive $55.00 in War Stamps.

John Albrecht, Jr., Narberth, chairman of the Club's entertainment committee, introduced Dr. Samuel H. John, Cynwyd, surgeon for the Hahnemann and other hospitals, showed motion pictures of big game hunting trips.

Gay Nelson With WAC in N. Africa

Private Gay Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton L. Nelson, of 11 Narbrook Park, Narberth, a member of a Women's Army Corps Company which arrived recently in North Africa to work with the Army, has been assigned as a stenographer in the office of the Deputy Theater Commander.

Private Nelson, former secretary with the Department of Commerce in Washington, joined the WAC last February. She holds a B.S. degree in education from the University of Illinois.

Narberth Club

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, Chinese scholar and author, will speak at the regular meeting of the Women's Community Club of Narberth, next Tuesday afternoon.

Report Journey's End Sold in Gladwyne

In the heart of Philadelphia's "Main Line" at Gladwyne, "Journey's End" is reported sold by an undisclosed purchaser for $35,000. It was purchased from Harrison McMichael of Bryn Mawr. The property embraces 7 acres of hills, valleys, woods and stream with a distinctive Colonial residence of 17 rooms, 7 baths and 5-car garage. It was built in 1934 by Durham and Irvine.

WESTGATE BOYS TRIM BORO CLUB

Recovery of Fumbles Helped Visiting Team

The Westgate Hills eleven came to the Narberth Playground on Sunday and walked away the winners over the Narberth Boys' Club gridders by a 7-6 score.

The score indicates a close game, the Boro Boys' Club eleven had the game in their pockets three different times, but fumbled their chances away. Fumbles lost the game for Narberth the previous week, and again this week. On three separate occasions the Boys' Club Varsity was inside the Westgate Hills ten-yard line, but fumbled each time.

In the last quarter, the Blue and White gridders drove 65 yards down field through some fine and fancy ball carrying by Stumpo, Capriotti, and Felici, but lost the ball on the twelve yard line thru a fumble. On the following play, Webb, who played a bang up game at end for the Boro Club, blocked the kick, and Placey recovered for the home team on the eight-yard line. On the very next play, the ball was fumbled again, and recovered by the Westgate Hills center. Westgate then kicked out of danger to the Blue and Whites 48 yard line.

LOCAL PROFESSORS PROMOTED IN RANK

Action Taken by Drexel Institute Trustees

By action of the board of trustees of Drexel Institute of Technology, eight members of the Drexel faculty have received promotions in rank, according to an announcement by A. J. Drexel Paul, president of the board. They are as follows:

From associate professor to professor: Samuel J. Leonard, 533 Country Club Lane, Manoa, Civil Engineer; Walter L. Obold, 647 Kathmere Road, Brookline, head of the Department of Biological Sciences.

From assistant professor to associate professor: Leroy A. Brothers, 283 Bowman Avenue, Merion Station, Civil Engineering; Sallie Beth Moore, 313 Race Street, Philadelphia, Home Economics; and Horace W. Hannah, 405 South 24th Street, Philadelphia, English.

Montgomery County, Narberth Borough and Lower Merion Township Will Elect Officials; 50 Military Ballots Issued

Borough, township and county officials will be elected in Montgomery County, Tuesday, November 2, at the municipal election at which 125,572 qualified electors are eligible to vote.

Polling places will be open from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

In addition to the local offices to be voted on, there is one State-wide contest for judge of the Superior Court.

County offices to be filled include judge of the Common Pleas Court, three county commissioners, controller, sheriff, register of wills, recorder of deeds, clerks of courts, treasurer, district attorney, coroner and surveyor.

In Narberth Borough voters will cast ballots for councilmen, school directors, auditors, justices of the peace and constables. Lower Merion Township will elect township commissioners, school directors, auditors, justices of the peace and constables.

Judges and inspectors of election will also be elected in each election district of the county.

In registration, Republicans hold nearly a four-to-one lead over Democrats with 98,362 to 24,938. There are 2,179 persons registered Non-Partisan, 78 Socialist, 10 Prohibition, 1 Royal Oak, 1 Independent Labor, 1 Commonwealth Land and 2 Progressive.

Fifty requests were received by the County Board of Elections for military ballots which were mailed to persons in the service on or before October 18. They must be returned by November 12 and be postmarked not later than November 2.

Although three County Commissioners are to be elected, the law provides that "each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected." Each party has two nominees for County Commissioner and the effect of the law therefore, is to insure representation of the minority party on the Board of County Commissioners.

A proposed constitutional amendment will also be on the ballot. It reads as follows: "Shall Section 11 of Article 8 of the Constitution be amended to permit the boundaries of election districts in townships and wards of cities to be fixed as provided by law instead of by the Court of Quarter Sessions?"

An "X" in the square after the party at the top of the ballot will constitute a vote for every candidate of that party whose name is on the ballot.

Voters were cautioned by Calvin W. Rigg, chief clerk of the County Board of Elections, to mark their ballots only with an "X" and with the pencil supplied in the voting booth. Marking a ballot with a check mark or with ink is illegal and will cause it to be thrown out.

Polling Places In And Narberth

The following is a list of the polling places in Narberth and Lower Merion. The polls will be open Election Day, November 2, from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Narberth—No. 2 District, Community Building, Windsor and Conway Aves.

Narberth—No. 3 District, Headquarters of Boy Scouts, N. W. corner of Essex and Elmwood Aves.

Will Fleer's Injustices Charge Bring Out Vote?

Narberth voters next Tuesday will have an opportunity to express their views on a squabble that developed since the September primary, between the borough's two magistrates and Roland Fleer, president of the Borough Council.

Whether they will or not is another question.

Fleer at the October meeting of Council claimed that Magistrate Otto Duer had snubbed Lady Justice and Magistrate J. Louis Jenkins had ignored her. The Council's president wanted both Duer and Jenkins to resign and withdraw from the election.

Duer and Jenkins are the Republican candidates for election as magistrates and the Democratic candidates are Fred Walzer, a former magistrate, and Jenkins, again. In a three-way contest Duer and Jenkins won the Republican contest in the September primary, but voters in the Democratic Party wrote-in the names of Walzer and Jenkins as their candidates.

Fleer's complaint arose over the alleged failure of Frank Silvestri, 321 Hampden Ave., Narberth, to stay on the right side of the road when he was turning into the Pennsylvania Railroad tunnel from Wynnewood Rd. The president of the council, who is an attorney, turned him in but when arraigned before Magistrate Duer the defendant was judged "not guilty" of reckless driving.

Duer told Fleer to appeal the case to the County Court if he wasn't satisfied with the decision.

ARMY COURSE FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Must Pass Aptitude Test Before Admission

The second qualifying test for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program which will be given throughout the country February 9 will be administered at the Lower Merion High School, George H. Gilbert principal, announced this week.

A pamphlet of general information which contains an admission-identification form may be obtained at Lower Merion High School. This form properly filled out, will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive who are recent high school graduates or who will be graduated by March 1, 1944. Intent to take the test should be made known to Vincent B. Pearce, assistant principal, in order that the test supplies may be ordered.

The same examination will be taken by both Army and Navy candidates. It is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge retraining. At the time of the test each candidate will be given a choice of service preference but required for the program of college taking the test does not obligate the candidate to enlist in the service.

The Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program enables students to continue academic training at government expense following induction into the armed services. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officer training, lead to a commission in the Army or the Navy.

ASSIGNED TO PHILADELPHIA
Private Anne N. West, 240 E. Lancaster Ave., Wynnewood, a graduate of Germantown Friends' School and Bryn Mawr College, has been assigned to the Army Information Center, Philadelphia, as liaison for Third Service Command Headquarters.

Private West, who entered the WAAC in October, 1942, transferred to the Women's Army Corps in August of this year.

Bob Feller, former pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, is on duty in the North Atlantic. In a recent Lakeland, Fla., high school football game, the Lakelanders were penalized twice for having 12 men in the line-up. The Minneapolis Millers, who joined the American Association in 1902, never have finished in the basement, although they were only half a game out when the 1934 season ended.

One game of every seven played by the Reds this season was a shut-out. It seems to take a war to get Western Michigan and Michigan together on the gridiron. Their only meeting prior to the one earlier this fall was in 1917. Stan Musial of the Cardinals batted .584 against Rip Sewell of the Pirates.

The WAR and YOU

CHRISTMAS GIFTS GENERALLY
MUST BE MAILED IN NOVEMBER

There can be no assurance, in view of the unavoidable handicaps of war, that gifts and cards mailed in the weeks immediately preceding Christmas will be delivered on time. Such matter must not impede the movement of war materials and personnel and military mail.

Transportation facilities are heavily burdened. The number of railway cars and airplanes available for handling Christmas mail is far below that of former years. Facilities simply are not available to transport and deliver, in the last three weeks before Christmas, the tremendous quantities of mail that we heretofore moved in that period.

More than 30 thousand postal employees have gone into the armed forces. They have been largely replaced with less experienced personnel. In the past, we have called in more than 200,000 temporary employees to help us with the holiday mails. Great numbers of these are now in the armed forces and high school boys and girls, who cannot work long hours or war industries. This year we must rely largely upon women at high speed of experienced personnel.

The only way, therefore, in which deliveries of Christmas mails can be made on time is by spreading the mailing over a longer period so that available transportation equipment and postal personnel can be used during more weeks.

Special efforts should be made also to extend the use of postal delivery zone numbers on all mail addressed to cities having that system, because the numbers expedite mail distribution.

Last year, at the urging of postal people, the public did start its mailings earlier than usual, but the early volume was small. There was a deluge of later mailings. Many people who did not mail within the time specified by the Post Office Department learned to their regret that their friends did not receive the cards and gifts until after Christmas.

HIGH NOTES

by
DAVID MALICKSON
Class of 1945—Lower Merion High School

The students and faculty members were taken on an imaginary trip to the mysterious land of India by Dr. G. H. Gibouleau, who for approximately twenty years lived among India's inhabitants and at one time was mayor of one of the cities. He told of the customs of the people, the political and caste systems, the wild life found in India and the mysterious doings of the natives who are endowed with amazing powers. During the program, Dr. Gibouleau demonstrated with a student from the audience how the garments of an Indian are worn—no buttons, zippers or belts, only the simplest form of clothing which for the most part is wrapped and draped about the body. Nancy Perry and John Balton were chairmen for the A and B assemblies, respectively.

This Saturday, October 30, Lower Merion eleven meets the football team of Phoenixville High at Phoenixville.

In order to identify the players at ease what follows is the probable line-up:

No. Lower Merion Phoenixville No.
15 R. Craig Robert Stephens 25
23 F. Basile Alfred Nowacki 28
32 T. Hepke Nick Lisowski 29
33 R. Whitting Thomas McHugh 33
40 G. Morgan William Szabo 34
43 L. Moretzsohn E. Klimcho 37
45 D. Poore William Vernon 38
46 J. Beeton Richard Laylor 43
48 S. Young Robert Barnes 45
49 J. Aronson Joe Gniat 47
44 W. Ellmaker E. Schenck 49

The student winners of the athletic association ticket sales campaign have just been announced, and are as follows: Jack Burns, of Room 101, sold the most season tickets, followed by Betty Davis, Betty Jane Hanger, Ted Hutz, Frank Shepherd, Harold Braithwaite, George Goeby, Marian Haderberg, William McClair, Barbara Bachman, Varner Cline, and Virginia Congratulation. These winners will be awarded war stamps or season tickets for their effort. Mr. A. S. Benner was in charge of the sales.

Salute of the Week — goes to Catherine Jennings, of Room 205, who has thus far contributed the most to the school's project of collecting tin cans. Collections for the flattened, prepared cans are made every Tuesday and Thursday in the home rooms. The process of preparing the tin cans is very simple: First, wash the empty cans thoroughly; second, remove paper ja-bels; third, open cans, bottoms as well as tops; fourth, flatten cans by stepping on them (do not use a hammer) leaving enough space between the sides so that it is possible to see through the can. The life-saving tubes which contain the morphine that the wounded soldier on the battlefield self-administers after receiving his injury is made from your discarded tin cans. If every student will realize the need for these cans, Lower Merion will go far beyond its quota.

Helen Lester, Alice Sloan, Jean McClaud and Betty Ann Hutton, were elected president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, during the last meeting of the Latin-American Club. Under the direction of Miss Nora B. Thompson, the club presents skits and music fests and corresponds with children who live in Chile. Catherine Maguire heads this committee. Other chairmen in charge of club activities are: William Campbell, Constitution Committee; Wilma Shalles, Music Committee; Nancy Markle, Poster Committee, and Marilyn Michell, Drama.

Because many articles are irreplaceable or may be gotten only with great difficulty, may we again, as last year, urge all the students who attend schools in Lower Merion Township not to participate in the usual, peace-time mischief night pranks. Remember that Tojo and Hitler smile with approval everytime you break milk bottles, deflate automobile tires, remove "for sale" signs and keep defense workers from obtaining their necessary sleep by placing pins in their doorbells. Keep this in mind when your friends ask you along on their mischief night "tour." Thank you!

By LITTLE HULL

The fundamental causes of all wars are so many, so varied and so confused that even history never really settles the arguments which these phenomena give birth to. Each contestant writes its own history and draws its own conclusions. Whichever side one is on is, of course, the right side.

Probably the most sincere, and certainly the most unselfish contestants in this war and in the so-called "First World War" have been the Americans. The fight—insofar as they are concerned—is to preserve and to further the principle that the right to rule belongs to the people and not to some individual or to some group of cock-eyed theorists. All Americans therefore greet with acclaim the fact that the Soviet government agrees with the American and British governments—in the joint statement of President Roosevelt Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin—to the right of the Italian people to decide upon their own form of democratic government after the Germans have been expelled from their country. It is not that we are particularly relieved over the future of our newly acquired "co-belligerents"; it is that the three powers have concurred in the great principle for which Americans have fought and are fighting for, and which they know to be the right principle.

Much has been written about the "decay of Democracy"; and not so much about the "decay of Autocracy." The story of the last one hundred and fifty years would indicate that those who have Democracy "decaying" are mostly wishful thinkers among the Ideology Boys. There was no Democracy at the time our ancestors got mad—a century and a half ago—and won independence for themselves and for us. Since then England, France, China, South America, Scandinavia and various others have tried out "decaying Democracy" and like it well enough to "stick." Germany tried it but was stopped in her tracks by a power-hungry group of ideologists calling themselves National Socialists. (Dictators by any other name would smell as sour.) Russia—for quite a while now—has reportedly been leaning more and more toward the "decaying" theory of government; and the joint statement of the three leaders would indicate—maybe—that the big boss of that country is going to concur in the principles enunciated in the Atlantic Charter. (This would surely give that great patriot, Earl Browder, a nervous breakdown.)

The right of the people to determine the form of their own government is the essence of Democracy. It is diametrically opposed to the theory of Autocracy which subordinates the will of the people. Stalin in agreeing with the former concept probably realizes that the world movement toward popular freedom—a principle little practiced between the reign of Augustus Caesar and the revolution, and made successful, in great part, by the genius of George Washington (iconoclasts to the contrary notwithstanding)—cannot be either blocked or slowed down.

And so the joint statement takes on tremendous significance; so tremendous in fact, that if the principle enunciated therein is carried out to its conclusion, it may well prove to be one of the most far-reaching pronouncements of our day.

FDR says:

I hope Americans will figure out for themselves additional payroll savings.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Here's a tip on answering "blind" want ads. Advertisements that have a box number for address.

A. C. Straughan, a bookkeeper had a small-salary job, so he began answering the want ads, but most of them were "blind." For two months, he did not get a single call to come for an interview. He changed the type of letter he was sending. Still no answer.

He knew that hundreds of answers must come in. The thing to do, he reasoned, was to be different, attract attention to himself. The idea of answering by telegram popped into his mind. Why not? He found an ad for a bookkeeper that appealed to him. Now he would try this idea. This is exactly what he sent to the box at the newspaper office:

"I am a capable and experienced bookkeeper. Am getting $14.50. Will consider anything better." Then added his telephone number. Two days later he received a reply from the Consumers Oxygen Company of New Orleans. He got the job, and stayed there three years, during which time he had three raises in salary. When he left, it was for a better salary.

A few years ago I ran a blind ad inquiry for a private secretary. I got hundreds of replies. Nine out of ten began as follows: "This letter is in reply to your advertisement under Box 473 in the Sunday Times. I desire to apply for the position." These applicants then went on to state their age and experience.

I never even read their letters. Why? Because I didn't want a secretary who began her letter of application in such an uninteresting trite way. I wanted as my secretary someone who had initiative, originality, and the ability to understand my requirements. One letter out of the approximately 300

I received was perfect. It read something like this:

"Dear Sir: You will get several hundred answers to this ad. I know you are too busy to wade through all of them. So if you will call me at Vanderbilt—3-0512, I shall be glad to come over and throw out the worthless ones and place on your desk the few that merit your attention."

BELL, PEW SPEAK AT FINAL GOP RALLY

Say Majority Will Pave Way to National Victory

Concentrating all efforts in rolling up a heavy Republican majority at the Municipal Election next Tuesday, for election of Republican County "row" office nominees, a series of 14 spirited rallies in many sections of the County, sponsored by the Republican County Organization in cooperation with local Republican organizations, is now nearing a close.

At all the sectional rallies, and particularly at the county-wide rally held at Norristown City Hall Tuesday night, at which Lieutenant Governor John C. Bell, Jr.; Joseph N. Pew, Jr., Ardmore; County Chairman Lloyd H. Wood and Vice Chairman Mary H. Beerer were the principal speakers. Workers were urged to make an intense effort to turn in substantial majorities.

A majority, larger than ever before, was urged to elect Republican County nominees, continue the good government that Montgomery County enjoys; and to express the desire of the people for a return of the Republican Party to power in the national picture.

Virtually all the speakers stressed the importance of getting every possible registered Republican to the polls November 2 as a means of strengthening party lines for the campaign of national importance next year.

Generally large attendance at the sectional rallies was taken by Party leaders as being indicative of a renewed interest of the electorate in priming now for the impending Presidential contest.

Speakers at the meetings held about the County included State Senator Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Attorneys Thomas E. Waters, Jenkintown; David E. Groshens, Glenside; Robert Truckess, Norristown; John E. Flynn, Norristown; E. Arnold Forrest, Conshohocken; Alphonse Santangelo, Norristown; and the Rev. H. A. Anderson, Pottstown, and the County candidates.

Conserve Gas

AND SERVE YOUR COUNTRY

America has gone from a land of plenty to a land of rationing to win the war. Gas is still plentiful and unrationed but this is no reason to waste it. Do your part in the nationwide, voluntary gas conservation program by conserving wherever possible. In this way, you will help to conserve fuel, transportation, manpower and vital materials used in the production of gas, that they may be converted to other war needs.

FUEL OIL—Period 1 coupons are good through January 3.

SUGAR—Stamp No. 14 good for 5 pounds through November 1. Stamp No. 29 in Book Four becomes good November 1, and will be good for 5 pounds through January 15, 1944. Stamps Nos. 15 and 16 good for 5 pounds each for home canning through October 31.

SHOES—Stamp No. 18 good for one pair. Stamp No. 1 on the "airplane" sheet in War Ration Book Three becomes good for one pair November 1.

MEATS, FATS—Brown stamps C, D, E, and F good through October 30. Brown stamps G, now good, expires December 4. Brown stamp H becomes good October 31 and remains good through December 4.

PROCESSED FOODS—Blue stamps X, Y, and Z good through November 20. Green stamps A, B, and C in Book Four becomes good November 1 and remain good through December 20.

CAN STILL SEND SOME GIFTS

Christmas packages for soldiers overseas which have been returned to the sender because of an improper address still may be mailed, according to the War Department. The original wrapper, bearing the indorsement, "Return to Sender, Insufficient Address," must be submitted with the correctly addressed package to prove that it originally was mailed before the October 15 deadline. Christmas packages also may be mailed to soldiers going overseas between now and Christmas. When the sender presents his package to the post office for mailing he must bring the change of address form containing the APO address to which the package is being sent.

GET POINTS TO SEND FOOD OVERSEAS

Persons who wish to send a package of rationed food overseas may get the necessary points by applying to OPA. Those who wish to have the dealer from whom the food is bought arrange for shipment, may make the purchase without giving up ration stamps, since OPA will replace the point value of the foods the dealer exports. When extra ration points are issued, a copy of the export declaration or a certificate of mailing must be turned over to the OPA office which granted the points.

RETURN RATION BOOKS IN MAIL

Finders of lost ration books may drop them in the mail without prepaying postage or enclosing them in envelopes, according to OPA. On payment of a five-cent postage-due charge, the Post Office Department will return the lost book to the person whose name and address appear on the cover. When the addressee cannot be found, the Post Office will forward the book to the nearest rationing board.

MORE HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Increased production of cast iron skillets, kettles, dutch ovens, and flat irons for household, institution, commercial, and other uses is permitted under a recent revision of WPB order L-30-c.

LAWYERS AND SOLDIERS' RECOVERY

Army and civilian lawyers are aiding Army medical officers in bringing about the speedy recovery of wounded troops by providing free legal advice which clears up perplexing financial problems and other difficulties which may confront the soldier. This service, provided overseas as well as at home, gives the soldier the peace of mind which is necessary for proper response to medical treatment, the War Department reports.

ENOUGH CIGARETTES

Supplies of cigarettes will continue to be sufficient in volume and quality to meet the demands of U. S. civilians, according to a recent report by the War Food Administration.

This Week in WASHINGTON

With all eyes on the Moscow conference, at which the foreign ministers of the Allied nations will attempt to formulate broad outlines for post-war action, it becomes increasingly clear that our country, as yet, has no definite post-war policy.

It is true that Congress has spent many hours debating this subject, but the resolutions passed were so innocuous that they add practically no light to our stand. The House resolution, passed after months of study, read:

"Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring) that the Congress hereby expresses itself as favoring the creation of appropriate international machinery with power adequate to establish and to maintain a just and lasting peace amongst the nations of the world, and as favoring participation by the United States therein, through its constitutional processes."

That resolution would indicate that the House does not favor strict isolationism following the war, but it gives no indication of how far we would go toward subscribing to an international police force, whether we would favor boundary changes and what methods we would prescribe for dealing with enemy nations after they have been conquered.

The fact that President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin issued a joint statement agreeing to permit the Italian people to choose their own form of government after the Germans have been driven out of Italy indicates that the Allies are more or less agreed on a pattern for dealing with "liberated" countries, but it is obvious that such a plan would not be acceptable for the treatment of Germany and Japan.

The extensive debate in the Senate on the draft of fathers is believed to have done considerable good by putting the limelight on the large number of single and married men without children who have been excused from military service because of government jobs or replaceable jobs in industry. As a result of this, most draft boards will reconsider those they have deferred before taking many fathers.

TOTAL definition
So now we know what "total war" is like!

It means people earning and spending more money than they ever have in their lives—

Sales of fur coats, diamonds and silver hitting an all-time high—

More pleasure traveling than at any time in history—

Race tracks, resorts, hotels, theaters and night clubs overflowing with patrons—

Millions of men and women having their work week limited to 40 hours or being handsomely paid for overtime—

Labor unions having a field day and stopping production over the slightest infringements of their "sacred" rights—

People being taught that they are displaying great patriotism by investing their surplus income in bonds which will return $4 to them for each $3 they spend—

And our national legislators "solving" wartime problems with both eyes glued to the ballot box.

Oh yes, we have sacrificed a few gallons of gasoline, we put up with taking lamb when we wanted beef on occasion, and we are unable to buy some of the luxuries we would like to have.

But there will be plenty of people who, in later years, will look back on this war period as the easiest and most prosperous days of their lives.

PROFITEERS millions
At Pearl Harbor time, when President Roosevelt warned us about this being an all-out war with everyone of us in it, he painted ed a grim picture of what things might be like in this country. But now it is apparent that about the only "all-out" phase of this war is the all-out effort of millions of people to get rich before it is over. In the last war we had a handful of war profiteers—in this war 60 per cent of the people are getting a good profit out of it.

Consequently, although most of us long for peace and the return of sons and brothers from foreign battlefields, many are dreading the economic let-down which will follow the war. They realize that the real sacrifice, for them, will come in peacetime when the government stops handing out money like a drunken sailor.

Fortunately, in spite of the soft life we are living at home, our genius at mass production has made it possible for us to turn out war supplies at a fantastic rate. Despite our lack of all-out war effort, we will probably produce enough to win the war.

But it somehow seems terribly wrong, when millions of American boys are going through hell on earth to preserve our country that so many at home should find this war so disgustingly pleasant and profitable.

SPREE debt
If it wasn't that our government leaders fear it would lose votes for them, they would probably have agreed long ago to a work-army of all able-bodied citizens not in uniform to be paid wages comparable to army pay and to work under army discipline.

Such a plan would have really carried out the "all-out war" idea. It would have made unions powerless for the duration, it would have speeded production beyond belief, it would have ended our man-power problems, it would have saved tax payers billions of dollars now paid in excessive wages, and it would have taken all of the profit appeal out of the war.

But instead of having us all share the hardships of war—which we would have been glad to do—our vote-blinded legislators appropriated hundreds of billions of dollars to make war a grand spending spree for the working man and limited sacrifices to those unfortunate enough to be physically fit and under 38.

If labor was being paid army wages, the cost of this war would be cut at least in half. Then it could have been paid for as we went along. But because of the government's insistence on excusing millions of voters from sacrifice, the 10,000,000 men in uniform not only have to endure most of all the hardships, now, but will, upon their return, have to spend years helping to pay the debt created by the government's approval of enormous hand-outs to war workers.

Successful Parenthood
BY
MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

Better Parenthood week, which is having its sixth annual observance this week, seems to belong especially to this column, both because of its sponsorship by the Parent's Magazine and because of the parent-education work it hopes to accomplish. Each year during this special week we have stressed different aspects of making ourselves better parents—the necessity, for instance, of first being good men and women, good citizens, good Americans if we in this country are to be good parents.

This year, confronted as we are by unusual problems in our daily living, we find that the greatest inspiration for Better Parenthood week comes from looking to the future. "Today's Children are Tomorrow's Hope—and your Responsibility"—that is the 1943 slogan for Better Parenthood week, and a plainer, truer call to our best efforts in behalf of children could scarcely be uttered. Let's stop and think what it means.

No matter how soon or how conclusively we win this war, if in waging it we neglect the welfare of the nation's children we will already have endangered the peace. Yes, our enemies will have scored a victory of appalling proportions if in these war years we lower our hard-won standards for safeguarding the health, well being and educational opportunities for all children. Moreover, we will have failed in our duty to the men who are fighting this war if we allow any of the values for which they are fighting to perish. These men will bring home with them searing memories of starving, sick, destitute children. They will almost have forgotten that such joy as laughing, carefree children could exist anywhere. And they will be determined to wipe out in this country any semblance of conditions such as they have left behind them in battle areas. Never again will they be complacent about seeing that their own children across the tracks have none.

So, in marking the community significance of Better Parenthood week, let's redouble our efforts during this coming year to adjust any shameful conditions in our own towns and neighborhoods. Are you, for instance, doing all in your power to stem the wartime increase in juvenile delinquency by providing attractive places where older boys and girls can have a good time? Every community we know of which has helped its young people run a recreational club has made a success of the venture. If there have been failures we haven't heard of them—and it's usually the place which goes wrong that makes the headlines. Let's grant, then, that community clubs are a practical and sensible way to offset the lure of commercial juke joints, and that they are popular with young people. All that is needed is the energy, the community spirit to put over such a project on behalf of older boys and girls.

Because doctors and nurses are scarce, baby and child-health clinics should be established in many communities. Care for children of mothers who are employed, hot school lunches, employment safeguards for every boy and girl—these are some of the outstanding needs which Better Parenthood week would call to the attention of every public-spirited citizen. We urge you to take an active part in its observance, realizing, as you do so, that the present and the future of this nation depend on the present and future well-being of its homes and its children.

Mrs. Barnes to Speak At Jephtha Abbott

The monthly meeting and 14th birthday party of the Jephtha Abbott Chapter, D.A.R., will be held on November 1, at 2 P. M. at the Overbrook Presbyterian Sunday School. In addition to reports of the State conference, the guest speaker will be Mrs. George Emerson Barnes.

Mrs. Joseph B. Van Selver, Jr., and Mrs. Halg H. Pakradoni will be the hostesses. The chapter will give a benefit bridge party on November 22 at 2 P. M., at the New Century Club, 124 S. 12th Street, Philadelphia.
